

Speaker: Fred Xavier
University of Notre Dame

Friday, April 17, 2015
4:00 PM
129 Hayes-Healy Hall

Title: New mechanisms of global invertibility

Abstract:

The question of deciding when a locally invertible map admits a global inverse appears in many mathematical contexts. In this talk we survey some of the recently discovered invertibility mechanisms, relating to global analysis, differential and algebraic geometry, topology, complex analysis and dynamical systems.